SMITH MURDER TRIAL BEGINS; FOUR JURORS ARE SECURED.

The Defense Will Be an Involved One, Including a Plea of Insanity.

WILL LIKELY LAST WEEK

Attorneys Expect to Complete Selection of a Jury by This Evening, Smith Killed His Father and Brother-in-Law.

Special to The Courier.
UNIONTOWN, Sept. 12.—You must know that you stand indicted by the name of D. Port Smith for the murder of D. Port Smith and Evans Moser. With these words, Prothonotary William McCollum today arraigned the defendant in what will be the greatest murder trial witnessed by Fayette county in recent years.

After reading the charges, Smith replied in a weak voice, "not guilty." During the reading of the indictment he stood with a nervous hand clasped, and hung his head as if ashamed. He was very pale and spoke to no one, except those questioned by his counsel.

He wore a scowl upon his face and rarely took his eyes from off the floor. He was dressed in black suit with a white shirt front and no tie.

At the defendant's table, the attorneys are: W. C. McKeon, T. P. Jones, W. L. Gann and W. J. Johnson, the latter an uncle of Mrs. D. P. Smith.

Owing to the recent illness of District Attorney Davis W. Henderson, his assistant, George Patterson, has prepared the case and will carry on the prosecution with the aid of Henderson. County Detective Alex McBeth and Frank McLaughlin will assist them.

The defendant's wife is seated at her husband's side, together with a brother of D. P. Smith, Andrew J. of Smithfield.

John Welsh, a laborer of Everett, was the first juror called. Assistant District Attorney George Patterson, who is conducting the Commonwealth's case, asked the juror if he thought a man who would commit such a crime as Smith's would be insane, and if it would take good evidence to change his opinion. Attorney W. C. McKeon objected to the questions, which was overruled by Judge J. Q. Van Swaayen after argument and was challenged for cause.

After some questioning, by Attorney McKeon, Patterson's challenge was overruled. The latter used the first of his 20 peremptory challenges.

John Yeager, mining boss of German township, was accepted by the defense. As he thought a man would be immune to shoot his father and brother-in-law, he was challenged for cause by the Commonwealth. This was overruled. Their second peremptory was used.

Andrew Alexander, mine foreman, German township, was accepted by the Commonwealth, their first acceptance. He was accepted by the defense, and will act as foreman during the trial.

Walter Hubbles, store manager of Brownsville, was challenged by the defense.

No. 2, John Frankenberry, a farmer, Springhill township; No. 3, Louis Costa, manager, Perry township; No. 4, Andrew Wollensky, yard boss, German township were three more jurors accepted by both sides before the noon adjournment.

The attorneys for the Commonwealth and the defense expect to complete the jury today. Each side has so far used two peremptory challenges of the 20 allowed to each. The Commonwealth will ask for a first degree verdict. The defense will be an involved one, including a plea of insanity.

The Murders.

The crime for which Smith will answer was a most brutal one. On the night of February 27th, "Sunday evening, D. Port Smith, father of the defendant, was returning from church, a short distance from his residence, in Georges township. For some unknown cause, his son laid in wait for him with a Winchester rifle, hiding behind some bushes near the entrance to his yard. As his father approached, he raised the weapon, shooting him in the back. He died instantly. To give the scene the appearance of a suicide, he placed a large Colt's revolver in the right hand of the dead man, and in this position it was found. The fact that the wound was in the back, dispelled all thought of suicide.

Leaving the body where it fell, Smith made his way to the home of his sister, a short distance down the road. About 20 minutes elapsed from the time of the first killing until his brother-in-law was dead.

Entering the house, he demanded the whereabouts of Evans Moser, the husband of his sister. It is said that she realized her brother's intentions, and sent him up to the second floor of the house. As Moser was in the front room of the first floor she at once informed him of Smith's presence, begging him to leave at once. Moser entered the reception hall and shut the door just as Smith came down. Without a word he raised his gun, fired through the door and the man fell with a bullet through his heart.

Smith's actions following his crime were peculiar in the extreme. Though the county authorities were on the scene in a short time, the murderer had disappeared. The county in the vicinity of Smithfield was searched for days but to no avail. The man had completely disappeared. A reward of $500 was offered by the County Commissioners for his apprehension. Circulars containing his picture and description were sent broadcast, some even going to Turkey.

About ten days after the murder, Louis Fox and S. M. Malone, section men on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, noticed a man answering Smith's description walking the tracks, near Morgantown.

On being questioned he admitted his identity and agreed to accompany them to Uniontown. They arrived at the county seat the same day and at once received the reward.

At no time had the man attempted to conceal himself, but had wandered continually. He spent a day in Connellsville, where he had his mustache shaved off. He also spent a few hours in Uniontown.

The cause of the murder is still unknown. Some claim Smith to be insane, while others list at family troubles.

Smith comes from a well-to-do family. They are said to be worth about $30,000. Up until the shooting, he was engaged in farming; a small tract of land which he owns.

Jurors Excused.

Arthur F. Jones, a Georges township farmer, was excused from jury duty on account of sickness. Attorney C. T. Kefover filed a doctor's certificate in his behalf.

John S. Graham of Dunbar township asked to be excused, through Attorney E. C. Higbee, because he had signed an agreement to execute a deed tomorrow. He was not excused but will be allowed to transact his business.

Eugene T. Norton was excused from jury service, having served at the last September term of court. His attorney, E. C. Higbee, said if Norton should be accepted as a juror for the murder trial, it would be necessary to close the First National Bank in Connellsville as a number of employees are away.

ASK NEW TRIAL IN PORTER CASE

Attorneys in Motion, Claim the Verdict Was Against Weight of Evidence.

Special to The Courier.

UNIONTOWN, Sept. 12.—Claiming that the verdict was against the weight of evidence, Attorneys W. C. McKeon and S. C. Christy today filed a motion for a new trial in the case of Lavina Porter, convicted last week of forgery and burglary, being given her face a number of times before he was overpowered.

Information was made against him of John W. Williams, convicted before Mrs. Porter, on a charge of adultery. The first reason in the motion, the second, being that as the defendant was not indicted jointly with Lavina Porter, it was an error to compel him to go to trial jointly with her.

The defense was given ten days in which to file additional reasons.

Strong Defense Being Laid for Doctor Crippen

United Press Telegram.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—Because the undertaker and morgue keeper were compelled to use enormous quantities of carbolic acid to counteract the恶臭 of decaying flesh while removing the body from the Crippen home an acquittal of the accused physician may be forced.

The Crippen inquest was resumed today. The doctor's attorneys grilled the undertaker and keeper. They denied shoveling stones and dirt in the coffin but admitted the tree use of the acid.

Attorneys for the defense hope to demonstrate the chemist's testimony that hydrocyanic acid was the cause of death was a conclusion which did not result from an analysis. They are apparently laying the foundation to impeach the possibility of a satisfactory analysis being made.

Miss May, secretary of the Music Hall Guild, told of the disappearance of Mrs. Crippen. She said it was recently in January. She said Mrs. Crippen told her of dreams the doctor had strangled her. Miss May testified that Crippen told her wife was dead. Falling to secure any details she wrote Crippen's son at Los Angeles. She received a reply saying the news of his mother's death was a surprise. The son said Dr. Crippen wrote saying Mrs. Crippen died in San Francisco.

Rush of Flames Prevents Rescue of Animals in Livery Stable at Uniontown.

UNIONTOWN, Sept. 12.—Forty-four horses were burned to death in a fire Saturday night which destroyed the livery and feed stables of McCormick & Nixon, causing a loss of $15,000, partly insured. The origin of the fire is unknown. Only a few of the carriages and other vehicles in the building were saved. Women lying nearby assisted in saving these. When the fire was discovered it was impossible to release any of the doomed horses.

A working crew armed with steam shovels is attacking the debris but has not recovered additional bodies.

Chief of Police George Hetzel and Officers George Francis and Joseph O'Bryan made a raid on Leo Lee's Laundry office of East Main street Sunday and arrested 31 Chinamen including Leo Lee for gambling.

The men left forfeits amounting to $70 for a hearing to be held this evening. Leo Lee put up a forfeit of $20 and the others $5.00 each. There was over $20.00 cash on the tables, and over 1000 buttons, which were used instead of chips.

Charles E. Brown, a well-known young man of South Connellsville, was accidentally shot Saturday night by John Carney, his intimate friend. The bullet entered the cheek, fractured the jaw and after severing the jugular, lodged in the backbone. He died almost instantly. Mr. Brown and his family were close friends of John Carney's Saturday night. The two men started out for a walk in the direction of the Trotter water works plant. Carney had a new .35 calibre revolver in his pocket and had told Brown of his purchase. Brown asked to see the weapon and as he was receding it from Carney the revolver was accidentally discharged. Deputies in Westmoreland County try in vain to serve John Doe Warrants—Strike Situation There, However, is Quiet.

Special to The Courier.
GREENSBURG, Sept. 12.—The full in the strike situation was slightly relieved Saturday by a grand mix-up between several striking miners and others brought here to take their places in the mines. A warrant was served out against one of the former,
but the complainant being ignorant of the name of the other, caused a “John Doe” information to be made out. If the alleged offender can be located and identified today, the paper will probably be served.

The complaining witness is Stanislaus Wozniak, who, according to his story to the deputies at the Keystone mines, was one of a party of men recently brought here from somewhere to take the place of strikers. He, with his companion, was taken to a restaurant where others of his nationality held forth. It was while in one of the bed-rooms in that establishment that a number of strikers are said to have come to the place and barricaded the doors.

Stanislaus was a prisoner and so tightly were the doors locked and nailed up, that the combined strength of all the men was not enough to effect an escape.

Apparently the restaurant owner cared little what was going on. He appears to have made no effort to release the men from their prison.
The imprisoned men heard him working on the floor below and at times, the complainant says, they called to him loudly, but without effect. Even when meal time came they were not notified.

The crowd of men remained in the stuffy room all day and throughout the night and early the next morning Wozniak wrote a message on a greasy postal card he carried in his pocket and threw it out of the window. The message was addressed to the Pennsylvania corporation tax system is being studied in Ohio and West Virginia with a view of making some changes so that the collection may be along the same lines that have proved so successful in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Hause says that the Pennsylvania system was accorded first honors in the conference for merit. Several speakers referred to the advantageous manner in which the state system of taxation as a whole, instead of local taxation of corporations, properly has been worked out.

The state's taxation system has been studied by state exports of various states in the last few years and the steady increasing returns and successful manner of collecting dilligent tax has attracted national attention.

Personal Property Assessed for Taxation in Pennsylvania Far in Lead.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 12.—Pennsylvania's personal property, assessed for the purpose of State taxation, will break all records for the United States
this year and keep Pennsylvania in the first place of States making a showing in such returns. The aggregate of the returns for the 67 counties of the State, as made to the State Board of Revenue Commissioners, will reach close to $1,200,000,000. This is far and away ahead of the assessment
returns of such property in New York, the chief State in the Union and the next to Pennsylvania in assessments.
The gain this year will be over $40,- 000,000.

Christian W. Myers, clerk of the board, who has held the office since 1890, says that the returns have been showing an increase in all but a few counties and that, as soon as the adjustment of realty values is made in the Democratic and Republican parties for the governorship of New Jersey, State primaries will be held on Sept. 15, at which time voters will be given an opportunity to express their preference, and on Sept. 16 the Democrats will hold their State Convention. This will be followed by the Republican convention Sept. 20. The most likely candidate of the Republicans is Virgil M. Lewis, and perhaps his nomination will be opposed more earnestly if Dr. Woodrow V.
Wilson of Princeton University is chosen by the Democrats. Frank Katsenbach, Jr., is trying for the Democratic endorsement, and he may be the winner in the convention.

WHY THEY FAIL.

Most Pile Remedies Miss the Cause of Piles.

Dangerous treatment with ointments or suppositories usually fails to cure piles and cutting them off won't remove the cause. Such treatment only moderates the outside effects of the disease and fails to remedy the inside cause. The up-to-date doctors now use internal medicine to free the circulation in the lower bowel, and so remove the disease.

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, heart-burn, belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach graw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. George's Golden Medical Discovery is made of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the treatment of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver-invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum; a full list of its predictions is printed on the bottle-wraper and attested under oath. A doctor there will show you its claims and methods of treatment. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of native American medical forest plants. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

ADVERTISING.
THE DAILY COURIER is the only
daily newspaper in the Connellsville cable region which has the honesty and courage to print a daily report under date of the exact number of copies it prints for distribution. Other papers put forward extravagant figures without advertising rates
on application.

THE WEEKLY COURIER is the recognized organ of the Connellsville cable region. It has equal value as an industrial journal and an advertising medium for such interests.

Entered as second class matter at the postoffice, Connellsville.

PRESIDENT KILPATRICK'S STATEMENT.

The President of the Chamber of Commerce is exercising his right of free speech very fully and somewhat freely.

We print his communication in order to avoid the suspicion of being unfair, but we are not prepared to admit all he says concerning the attitude of the reporters of The Courier. We believe that we are more competent to judge of their honesty than anybody else.
No man born of woman, and earthly,
has ever been perfect. They sometimes make mistakes, but they do not intentionally misrepresent.

We fear the worthy President of the Chamber of Commerce has permitted his indulgence to overrule his judgment in this as well as in some other matters. We cannot, for example, believe that the publications made in The Courier concerning the construction of the High School annex have had such a terrible effect upon the town's prosperity and the work of the Chamber of Commerce as he seems to think, and we venture to suggest,
"With Myles toward me and Charly for all," that the Chamber of Commerce and its officers have no more to do or to say concerning the construction of the High School annex than any other taxpayers. The Chamber of Commerce, as we have stated
and now repeat, is doing good work,
and its officers and members should confine their efforts to that good work.

Other testimony will be taken, and we hope everybody will speak freely,
being responsible for his statements.
The Courier is only desirous of getting at the truth and safeguarding the public interest.

It would vindicate virtue, criticize error and denounce guilt if any be found.

THE TREATMENT OF JUVENILE CRIME.

The conviction in the criminal courts of Fayette county of a ten-year old girl for throwing stones in a childish quarrel, and of a thirteen-year old boy on a charge of "receiving stolen goods," the goods being part of sixty cents' worth of indifferent candy, may argue the necessity of a Fayette county Children's Home, but the circumstances also indicate an eager and exact administration of the law such as Shylock once demanded.

From a humanitarian point of view
such cases should have no standing in court. It is true that the law recognizes no age limit or responsibility beyond the period of mental comprehension. After that crime is crime as defined by the law books,
and it may not be measured by blood or brutality, by dollars or cents; but youthful depravity should not be de-fensed by the flights, fits and flichings of the childhood that fails to fully understand the great moral principles involved. The proper place for the punishment of such offenses is not the criminal court, nor the institution for incorrigibles, but the woodshed with a strap or slingshot accompaniment.

We agree with the recommendation of the court, that a Children's or Orphans' Home would be established in Fayette county, but we incline to the view that it should be reserved for children who have no proper homes,
or who have no homes at all.

Justice should be just, but on proper occasions it should be merciful; and it is practically always proper to be merciful when children of immature years and imperfect understanding are on trial for trivial offenses.

THE SCHOOL BOARD AND

THE HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING.
The Courier has no desire to reflect in any manner upon the integrity or the wisdom of any member of the School Board in connection with the cost of the High School addition nor the safety of its interior arrangements, but only to direct attention to the fact that its excess, if correctly reported, are out of all proportion to its contract price, and its steam boiler arrangements are strongly condemned by an expert.

We have specifically refrained from questioning the integrity of the directors, or endorsing the judgment of the

COLONEL HOME AFTER LONG TRIP.

Will Be Ready for New York Fight After Brief Rest.

T. R. COMPLIMENTS PITTSBURG

Congratulates Its Citizens For Cleaning Out the Grafters—Says He Had Much to Do With the Beginning of Probe Into Smoky City.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Mr. Roosevelt is back home after his long and lively jaunt into the west, where he encountered the reception of his career. The colonel was somewhat tired citizen, but he was not all in by a long shot and after a day's rest in his quiet home on Sagamore Hill, he will be ready for the state tray.

Nobody realized better than Mr. Roosevelt that he is about to enter one of the most strenuous and bitter fights that he ever engaged in during his career as a politician. The colonel did not have an opportunity to keep very closely in touch with the New York state situation while he was mixing and traveling in the west, but he is not entirely ignorant of existing condition and within a few days he will be on the job.

Pittsburg Tops Off Trip.
Pittsburg, Sept. 12.—Pittsburg topped off Mr. Roosevelt's long speechmaking tour with big reception wherever the colonel went. The streets were jammed, and the police had difficulty in holding the mob back of the ropes which had been stretched along the thoroughfares that the colonel traversed.

On his way to Exposition Hall the colonel stopped at the Monongahela house to address the throne. T. R. spoke from the same balcony that once held King Edward, Henry Clay, Lincoln, Grant and McKinley. The colonel spoke briefly and the crowd yelled. He said it was one of the biggest crowds he had faced on the whole trip.

Mr. Roosevelt struck at the heart of his theme as soon as he began to speak. He spoke of the "recent magnificent victory" that Pittsburg had won.

The colonel spoke of the typical American traits that Pittsburg possesses and the other traits that got the Smoky City into trouble. Sometimes, he declared, this nation has been drunk with material prosperity, sometimes it has thought of nothing but the body. It is all right to dream dreams, the colonel said, so long as they come true. The moral and theoretical aspect must be considered in order to start working basis.

Roosevelt Assisted Probers.

While he was president, Mr. Roosevelt said, several Pittsburgers called on him in the White House and told him that an investigation of certain banks might show certain business concerns and politicians had struck hands to rob the city. He sent an investigator from the treasury department. In fact the colonel started the whole clean up, he implied.

"You not only got the corrupt politicians, but you got the men higher up," he exclaimed, "you sent the men of big business to the penitentiary." This was to Pittsburg infinite credit. "I come to congratulate Pittsburg on what you have done," said the colonel.

While he was on the subject of dishonest men in public life the colonel spread some advice as to attacking public men.

"Don't ever attack a man," said he, "unless you are certain he is bad. But when you know that don't let up on him."

The colonel closed his speech by remarking that there is no need of being depressed about things in America. It is not such a bad country after all. What we've got to do is to keep on plowing. Pennsylvania especially has done excellently among us, creating and passing good laws.

DAM WILL COST MILLIONS

ENORMOUS Cost of Structure in Somerset County Revealed.

Somerset, Pa., Sept. 12.—The enormous cost of Quemahoning dam, now in course of erection in the northern part of Somerset county, by the Manufacturers' water company of Johnstown, is revealed in the answer to a bill of inquiry in which the plaintiff is Hiram H. Blough of Conemaugh township and the Manufacturers' Water company defendant.

Up to Sept. 1 the Manufacturers' company had paid for the relocation and reconstruction of public roads $1,000,000, which includes preliminary work on the construction of the dam and pipe line. For land appropriated it had expended $616,064. It had spent $12,662 for pipe line rights of way, bringing the total amount thus far invested to $1,749,727. When completed the dam will flood part of three townships and the entire town of Stanton's Mills. The company asserts Blough's land will not be injured.

Startling Encouragement.
"Was Amelia's father encouraging when you went to him to ask him for her hand?"

"Not very. He asked me to put the proposal in writing, so I couldn't back out, as all the others did."

Lanier of the Cavalry

Or,
A Week's Arrest

By GENERAL CHARLES KING,

Author of "The Colonel's Daughter,"
"Foes in Ambush," Etc.

Copyright, 1900, by J. B. Lippincott
Company.

Indeed there was much to warrant poor Button's disgust. He had preferred most serious charges against Lanier. He had accused him of quitting camp, quitting his quarters when in arrest, failing to quit himself of a money obligation, drinking and consoing with enlisted men, and in his letter of transmittal he had intimated that there were other misdeeds he might yet have to uncover all, said Button, on the information of veteran officers and sergeants of the regiment, notably Captains Curbell and Snaffle, Lieutenants Crapo and Trotter, Sergeants Whaling and Fitzroy, and now here were both medical officers, both of his majors, two of his best captains, seven of his subalterns and nine-tenths of the women folk at Fort Cushing taking sides with Lanier and issue with him—his colonel and commanding officer. And here, too, were Lieutenant and Mrs. Foster, highly connected, influential, wealthy, insisting that his most active and important witness, the unimpeachable Sergeant Fitzroy, had corrupted their coachman, run off with their sleigh and ruined (this was Mrs. Foster's) those horses.

And the story Snaffle told Button before Foster could reach him was to the effect that Foster ought to be ashamed of himself for abusing Fitzroy for taking the sleigh in hopes of having a warm nest to fetch the poor girl home in as soon as he'd found her. "Sure, did Mr. Ennis expect her to ride back on his sleigh so no better night? Faith, Fitzroy was worth the whole pack of 'em put together if they'd only let him alone."

And that, at 9 o'clock, when Ennis was sent for, was the colonel's way of looking at it. Moreover, to bind a rasc up his sleeve for our massive young friend on half a dozen other counts.

"In point of fact, Mr. Ennis, that girl has simply spoiled the whole party and is probably laughing at all of you. A girl that will run away without a word or line to her father and marry an out and out adventurer, a mere nobody, has neither heart nor head anyhow. And now you've interfered in a matter of discipline just as Mr. Lanier did, and I give you credit for better sense. You know I had ordered that fellow's arrest."

And so all Fort Cushing seemed in turmoil and trouble as the sun of the 23rd went out and "Black Bill" came in, yet that sun must have been potent for Mrs. Stanward's face as homeward she sped after a long talk with Mrs. Osborn, was radiant with sunshine smile. "You're not to know anything yet, Lucy, at least until you get it from Dr. Mayhew, for you never could keep it, and for a week at least it's got to be kept."

"Well, one thing you can tell," said the major—"that is, if you know—and put a stop to any awful amount of censure that poor girl's getting. Why did she leave no word for her father?"

"Because she expected to be home in two hours." And the reader can judge just how full and satisfactory must that answer have been.

Now, whatever Mrs. Osborn had told that so cheered Mrs. Stanward; it is certain the latter could not contain herself long and that even as the major was summoned toward 9 of the evening to join the solemn conclave at the colonel's (where by this time Button had opened proceedings by giving "Black Bill" the best dinner a frontier ladder and cuirass afforded) she hustled over to the Sumters, was delightedly welcomed by her friend and neighbor, whose husband, too, had been called to council, and presently these two ladies were in confidential chat.

To them thus engrossed in confidant, then, there suddenly entered the two doctors, "Black Bill," the inspector, had given notice that he must needs have speech with the culprit, if that bandaged, blistered and unprincipled young man were in condition to see him. "Black Bill," and his host had been having a night of it. Button was in high tittle over the amazingly truthful and unlooked-for articles in the Mail and as eager to know and reward their author as he had been to apprehend and punish the earlier defector. Button had begun to "wabble," as Bill expressed it, in his spleen against Lanier, until so suddenly "raced" by the triumphant stand of Captain Sunfire, whose half drunken words the previous night were by this time known all over the coast.

NO TROUBLE DECLARER DIVA

Mme. Cavallieri Much Surprised at Starting Reports.

Paris, Sept. 12.—Mme. Lina Cavallieri-Chandler gave out a cable the patch she said she had received from her husband. It read:

"Have seen no one. It is not true. Work begins. Dovetailed. Robert."

Mme. Cavallieri said the report of trouble between herself and her husband came as a bomb to her, although she knew what importance should be attached to stories told by the American yellow journals. She laughed at a report printed here from New York to the effect that Mr. Chandler was trying to annul the settlement of 50,000 francs he had made on her on their marriage.

Conductor Fatally Crushed.

Upper Sandusky, O., Sept. 12.—Conductor C. C. Chase of Dunkirk, was crushed so badly when a Rocking Valley freight ran into a big freight at Cary that he died in a hospital.

CHINESE PRINCE COMING

Tsai Hsien, Uncle of Emperor of China, Arrives Information.

San Francisco, Sept. 12.—Prince Tsai Hsien, uncle of the emperor of China and head of China's naval administration, will arrive here Sept. 16. He is coming to study our navy.

Accompanying the prince are Admiral A. S. and ten other naval officers.

SENATOR LORIMER FACES CHARGES BEFORE COLLEAGUES OF THE SENATE

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—The United States Senate committee appointed to investigate the charges against Senator William Lorimer, is scheduled to meet here within a few days. Senator Burrows, chairman of the committee, has asked the other members of the investigating board to be present.

The junior senator from Illinois is accused of having bribed members of the State Legislature to vote for him for United States Senator, and the Senate committee will probe these accusations and report to the next session of Congress.

Aviator Comes Within 60 Yards of Crossing Irish Channel.

Dublin, Sept. 12.—Robert Loraine, the actor-aviator, failed to cross the Irish channel by sixty yards. He left Holyhead, traveled sixty miles, being out of sight of land for more than forty miles, and then with victory apparently in his grasp fell into the sea. It was not known here that he was going to make the attempt.

Yachtman saw an aeroplane descending from a great height. Loraine, who was wearing life belt, swam toward Bullay lighthouse from which a boat put out. Soon afterward the Dublin steamer Adela lowered a boat and drew the partly submerged aeroplane to the side of the steamer.

Loraine says that when he got out in the channel he met with considerable haze. He had some trouble with his engine. After he had covered one-third of the distance one of the wires broke, but he got along fairly well.

Passing the Kish lighthouse in Dublin bay at an altitude of 400 feet he made of Howth hill. As he neared the cliff he found himself too low to clear the face of the cliff, and he doubled back, intending to ascend when another wire broke and the machine fell.

LEISENRING BOYS CHAMPIONS OF CENTRAL FRICK LEAGUE.

Their Victory Over Monarch Saturday Clinched Hold on First Place and Wins Pennant.

| Lemont | 2 | 11 | 454 |

The Central Frick League's first pennant race ended yesterday in history Saturday with the defeat of Monarch by Leisenring, and Leisenring is the undisputed champion of the circuit. Morgan had a chance to tie Leisenring for first place, but to do so Monarch would have had to win the final game from the leaders, which they failed to do. Morgan took its last game by forfeit, Lemont failing to appear. The Morgan boys made a game fight for first place, starting under difficulties. The Morgan lads were entitled to much credit. They came from behind with a rush and were bound pennantward.

The first season of the Frick league was a decided success in many ways. In the first place every team showed marked improvement in baseball ability. The teams that were playing town for ball around the works before the league started would hardly be recognized in the peppery, gingery aggregations that cavorted about the diamonds towards the close of the season.

Some of the tennis introduced local stars who helped materially in whipping their respective aggregations into shape. "Speaky" Meant turned the Bitter aggregation, almost overnight, from a rank outsider to one of the most feared teams in the league; Bill Sheetz made Davison play better than it knew how, although managerial cares detracted, in some respects, from his big twirling; Frank Mullin and Martin Hanson made a team out of the Trotter boys always dangerous. The Morgan boys had an aggregation which has played together for years and the lads from the valley were no tyros. Lemont had a number of individual stars but that team's poor showing in the race was almost wholly due to the difficult Superintendant Callahan had getting his team together. Monarch went through the entire season with but few changes. The Monarch boys played good ball most of the time but had their share of bad luck. It is a question, however, whether Monarch did not lack the latent ability in its team that came to the front in other apparently weaker organizations.

Buto had a team which will be heard from later. The boys did not get under way until late in the season. Buto played good ball at times sufficiently good to warrant the assertion that it really deserved a better birth than fifth place.

The players on every team showed themselves true sportsmen and Monarch was practically unknown. More trouble was experienced from fans than from the players.

The unpleasing staff was of an unusually high standard. The question of securing competent umpires was one of the most serious that faced the league but in Sheely, Gregor, Herwick and Fink, the league had four trustworthy men; officials who made human mistakes, of course, but whose integrity and honesty were never questioned. Duggan, Yuhner and Miller also worked in a few games and gave general satisfaction.

Car Shops Beat Marguerite Boys; Score 6 to 1

The Everon Car Shops team walked the Marguerite team Saturday afternoon, by the score of 6 to 1, at the Standard Grounds, Mt. Pleasant. The Shops had started the ball rolling by putting out four strikes for a total of two runs in the first inning. A backs long drive in the fourth gave the Sewickley bunch time to take advantage of the lead and scored a trio of safeties for two more runs in the fifth and added two more in the seventh. Both twirlers pitched good ball although Horne had the better of Goodwin and should have had a dubious to his credit.

Shulsky's clever base running was a feature of the game. The clever third baseman for the Shops team scored three of the seven runs. Goodwin's walking man at critical times proved disastrous and Yuhner took advantage of his failure to prevent Miller's crack backstop, bunting the latter for four safeties out of five times at bat. Horne and Jones were the only Shops in to not get a hit. Nichols, J. Goodman and Metzler, for Marguerite were the only men to get a hit for their team.

Meyersdale Fair This Year Will Be Good

Special to The Courier.

MEYERSDALE, Sept. 12.—These are busy days for President Graves, Secretary Fike and the other officers and directors of the Meyersdale Fair and Race Association. The directors are making preparations for the largest fair ever held in Somerset county. The time for the exhibition of Somerset county products and speed trials is drawing near, September 27, 28, 29 and 30 being the dates set for the great event. Much yet remains to be done before the gates are thrown open, but the gentleman in charge are hustlers and the work will be well done.

The work of getting the grounds and buildings in shape will be commenced forthwith. The present exhibition hall will be used for a poultry building during the coming fair, and a new and more commodious building for general exhibition purposes to be erected and completed in time for the installation of the exhibits before September 27. Contractor John S. Graves has the building proposition in hand and it goes without saying that he will see it through in good shape and time.

A number of other improvements are also being made, such as straightening up the fences damaged by the June storm, leveling the tracks and providing accommodations for the animals that will be on exhibition, as the large throng expected to attend the fair and races.

Saturday will be a good race program every day, as well as plenty of other attractions for the amusement of the multitudes. The gate admission will give access to many free shows of a highly entertaining nature. Schmidts Trained Dog Circus will give four acts daily. This will be a feature that will afford good wholesome amusement to old and young. Some of the canine tests are said to be quite wonderful, the four footed performers being almost human in their display of intelligence and skill in doing things. They can do all but talk and they can even express their thoughts to some degree by barks and sign language.

There will also be hippodrome and circus acts a la glore and the various other forms of amusement that make agricultural fairs a delight to the American people. Whatever you do, don't miss the Meyersdale Fair this year.

Confluence
Will Boom With New Railroad

Special to The Courier.

CONFLUENCE, Sept. 12.—Industrial Agent Austin Gallagher of the Western Maryland railroad was in Confluence for a few hours this week and was taken over the new line, was shown the progress that has been made in construction at the various points from Harmontown down to the stretch of road the Foley Brothers are building below the John Reed farm on the Yough. He was visibly impressed with everything he saw and was very enthusiastic over the topography of this immediate section. He especially admired the many large tracts of level acreage lying contiguous to the Casselman river between Confluence and Harmontown.

The abundance and cheapness of coal and the great possibilities of our rivers as a source of power production struck him very favorably. Mr. Gallagher was not backward in saying that Confluence impressed him as being about the best proposition for development the Western Maryland had in its line between Cumberland and Connellsville. He made it clear, however, that this development could not be brought about unless the railroads and our town people worked in union with the same object in view.

FALL ANNOUNCEMENT.

H. J. Bosley, 124 South Pittsburg St., Maker of Men's Clothes.

I beg to announce the arrival of my fall and winter woolens for 1910 and 1911. The styles now in vogue are very attractive and they represent the highest obtainable results of wide experience.

The discriminating dresser admires the conservative lines for fall and winter. The individuality of the wear may be brought out effectively in these designs by a master hand.

A cordial invitation is extended to those who are interested in attractive garments and the correct trend of fashion to inspect our stock for the fall and winter of 1910-11.

Yours for Clothes,

J. H. BOSLEY.

Paris Ideas in Fine Dresses

NEW DRESSES REQUIRE NEW CORSETS

to bring out the beauty of lines and contour. The new and necessary shapes may be had in

REDFERNS at $3.00 to $10.00
GOSSARDS at $5.00 and $6.50
LA RESISTA at $3.00

Each kind is designed to fit some particular figure. Proper fitting prevents breaking of the corset; not only do we fit the average figure, but stout or slender models may be benefitted from our stock.

Those Pretty Plaid Silk Waists Are Marked at $5 and to $12.50

Plain taffetas in all colors and exquisite Persian patterned waists are included in the same price range. For early fall wear the silks are taking a place long held by lingerie waists.

We are showing a pure linen plain-waist at $1, and a pretty Madras waist for the same price.

Mrs. H. D. Tasker:

with the new hair goods will be here Tuesday, the 13th Mrs. Tasker has concluded a 10 weeks' demonstration of the new vogue of dressing the hair at the Uniontown store. She advises freely and is altogether a very pleasant lady.

Plain Colored Silk Petticoats Are Again Very Popular.

Here at $5.00

Women who seek first choice have been looking at our $25.00 wool suits, and purchased that alterations can be made before the rush season.
